

INSURGENTS PLAN TO CURB CANNON

House Rules Committee May Be Enlarged Without Including Speaker.

HAYES WOULD HAVE NINE MEMBERS ON IT

President Taft Said to Be Behind Move in Interests of Harmony.

The House is on the eve of changes in the rules that will revolutionize that body.

Unless the prediction of insurgent leaders and some of those Republican members who are taking a middle ground are all wrong, the rules will soon be changed so as to provide for an enlarged Rules Committee.

A caucus of the Republican members will be called in a short time to consider enlargement of the Rules Committee. It is proposed to make this committee consist of nine members, instead of five, at present, and to take from the Speaker the power of appointing it. Many members favor a provision in the rules that will shut the Speaker out from membership on the Rules Committee, but it is too early to say whether this will be adopted.

Caucus in Near Future.
Representative Hayes, one of the insurgent leaders, following a talk with President Taft, said that a caucus would be held in a short time. He hoped it would come next week. The matter to be considered will be the make-up of the Rules Committee. Mr. Hayes has a plan for a rules committee to submit to the caucus. He would have the committee made up of nine members, with every section of the country represented. He would have six Republicans and three Democrats, would have the committee elected by the House, with the Speaker not a member of the Rules Committee.

Mr. Hayes declared that many of the regulars are falling into line for the change in the make-up of the Rules Committee. He says they realize that public sentiment demands a change. It is not like that which will be taken, at least, in the near future, to drive Speaker Cannon to declare that he will not run for Speaker again.

Mr. Hayes was asked about this today.

Predicts Cannon's Fate.

"Everybody knows the Speaker cannot be re-elected as head of the House," said Mr. Hayes. "It is therefore not necessary to take action in this matter. The important thing is to change the rules with respect to the Rules Committee."

President Taft is said to be behind the movement to effect changes in the House so as to provide for a different sort of Rules Committee. He wants to see peace and harmony instead of continual war in the House.

DR. PIERCE TO GIVE SPECIAL SERMONS

The Rev. Dr. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, pastor of All Souls' Unitarian Church, has announced a series of special sermons beginning Sunday, 8 p. m. They are:

January 30, "What Is the Religion of the Spirit?" February 6, "The Religion of the Spirit in the Old Testament." February 13, "The Religion of the Spirit." February 20, "Paul and the Religion of the Spirit." February 27, "The Religion of the Spirit in Modern Life."

Special music will be furnished by the quartet choir under the direction of Mrs. H. Clay Browning.

SNEAK THIEF GETS AWAY WITH $300

Walter M. Gilbert, of 3405 Ashley terrace, Groveland Park, reported to the police today that while he was out of his home yesterday between 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 11 o'clock at night a sneak thief entered the premises and helped himself to jewelry and silverware worth $300. The intruder gained entrance through the rear of the house. Detective Berman, of Sub T precinct, is trying to find the thief.

IMPOVERISHES SELF FOR WIFE TO RE-WED

Tenor Jörn Gives Up Everything for Her Happiness.

RIVAL IS UNKNOWN TO ROMANTIC SINGER

Frau Here to Avoid Any Scandal, Not to Make One.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Whether his long career of singing romantic roles has made him romantic, or whether he naturally is one of those heroes whose motto is "All for Love," cannot be said; but Carl Jörn, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has just done a mighty unusual thing for the sake of love and romance—and it's some one else's, not his own.

He has almost beggared himself so that his wife may marry another man. He has given her his fortune, his home, his jewels, and even his children to take to his rival, although he has never seen the rival, and doesn't even know who he is.

The tenor has told all this himself, as the inside story of the hurried visit which his wife paid him last week. Everybody knew, at the time, that she came over from Germany for money, got a lot of it, and then went back. But just what it was all about was a secret.

Jörn, pressed for his story, handed out for inspection an agreement which he and his wife signed, and then said: "There! You will see by this that I have given up everything for Frau Jörn and—him, whoever he may be. I do not know; I only know that she loves him, she does not love me, and so why should they not have one another?"

Wrong Interpretation.
"When my wife came over here last week she sent me a wireless dispatch from the steamer. Wrongly it was interpreted to read that she was coming to make scandal. What it really said was that she was coming to avoid a scandal."

"I met her here, and she said: 'Carl, long you have known that I have not loved you. And you have not loved me. Now I come to tell you that I love another, and I ask you to set me free, so that he and I may wed.'"

"To that I agreed, when she told me how much she loved this other man. I asked who he was. A poor physician, she told me, in Berlin. And because he is poor, and she has no wealth nor income save what I have given her, she asked that I provide for her—that I give her enough to maintain them both until this physician should do better with his profession. And so I did. I gave her everything I had—save my voice and my ability to work. Read the agreement, and see!"

The Document.

This was a voluminous document, drawn up by the singer's attorney, George H. Emerson, and signed by Jörn and his wife in the presence of a notary and the German consul general. It made for the wife these provisions:

"Proceeds of phonograph royalties—about $5,000 a year; $15,000 in cash, to be paid at once; $10,000 in cash, to be paid in a month; $1,000 a year to each of the three young Jörn children; $5,000 life insurance, to be kept in Frau Jörn's name; jewels worth $10,000; house in Berlin, worth $10,000; no obstacle to be placed in the way of Frau Jörn's divorce; custody of the two boys and girl; all of the singer's friendship and good wishes."

"Unusual" repeated Jörn when that comment was made upon the document.

FOR KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

The following prescription is said to be the best obtainable for deranged kidneys, bladder or prostate. Buy from any good druggist half-ounce Muxur compound in original sealed package, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, six ounces good, pure gin. Mix and take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal. (Be sure to get the genuine Muxur compound in original sealed package.)

This remedy should be taken at first sign of kidney trouble, such as pains in the back, frequent or highly-colored urination, scalding urine, rheumatic pains in the joints, dimmed vision, puffiness under the eyes. This allows the kidneys to purify the blood properly and prevents chronic rheumatism, diabetes, or dread Bright's disease.

GIVES UP WIFE TO RIVAL

and his action. "Perhaps so. Some have said not one in a hundred thousand men would do such a thing. But I do not regard it so. What else to do? Frau Jörn does not love me, she was happy with me, she will be happy, she says, with the other man. Then why not allow her to be?"

About all the tenor retained of his worldly possessions, he says, are his clothing and a beautiful ring which was presented to him by the Empress of Germany when he was a member of the Royal Opera Company and bore the title of "duke singer," which made him practically a member of the imperial retinue.

"Did you do this for love of your wife?" he was asked.

Does Not Love Her.

"No, for I do not love her," was his reply. "We found we were not mated years ago. But I love happiness—her's or any one's. That's why. So she has my best hopes and wishes."

"But—about the children."

"Them I love. But it is not for a man to bring up little children. Their mother loves them, too, with all her heart, and I trust her to bring them up as they should be brought up. And I know that any man she chooses for her second husband will be kind and good to them, too."

"How about your own future, though?"

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

"I don't know. I don't know."

DIPLOMAS AWARDED AT BUSINESS HIGH

Forty-nine Students Are Graduated At Special Exercises.

Forty-nine new names have been added to the long roster of graduates of Business High School. With all the setting of a June commencement, diplomas were awarded at special exercises last night.

The graduates, speakers, officials of the school, and members of the Board of Education were on the platform, which was decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Roy M. Perry, class president, delivered the welcome. Miss Ida B. Prescott related the class history, while Paul Schmidt recited the class poem. A humorous class prophecy was made by Miss Gertrude E. Musser. William Roberts in an address to the undergraduates, promised the loyal support of the alumni, to which John E. Lynch responded. Allan Davis, principal of the school, commended the class for its excellence in studies. Miss E. Harriet Riley delivered the valedictory.

The rest of the program included an address by Superintendent of Schools A. T. Stuart and the presentation of diplomas by Capt. James F. Oyster. At the McKinley Manual Training School last night a "public" exhibit for the public was open. A concert was given by the school orchestra under the direction of George Sunderland.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

A Leading Druggist Offers to Pay for Samose if it Does Not Make Thin People Fat

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, nature will soon assert her normal power, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Weigh yourself before you commence the use of Samose, and you will notice a steady gain. Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight, and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that a leading druggist is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and wants all who are thin, weak, and out of health to get a box of Samose from him on these terms:

Send post paid on receipt of price, 50c. The Dr. Howard Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Acid Dyspepsia

Nervous People Are Frequent Sufferers From Too Much Hydrochloric Acid in the Stomach.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

"Sour stomach," or acid dyspepsia is a form of indigestion in which entirely too much hydrochloric acid is secreted by the stomach. A sour taste in the mouth is the most common symptom of acid dyspepsia, and the acid, which is normally alkaline, is found, when tested, to be changed to acid, or just the opposite of what it should be, and is a state of the secretion which causes rapid and extensive destruction of the stomach.

Everything eaten turns more or less sour in the stomach, but sweets and acid fruits are far worse in this respect than other foods. If the eructation of liquids from the stomach occurs, they have such an extremely sour taste as to set the teeth on edge. Hydrochloric acid is an important constituent in the gastric juice, but when too much of it is secreted, it does positive harm to the mucous lining of the stomach; and when acid dyspepsia is continued, it sets up chronic gastritis, gastric ulcer, and other serious diseases. The premature loss of the teeth has been caused by acid saliva, which was dependent upon the excessively acid condition of the stomach.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS, besides furnishing pure, aseptic pepsin to the stomach to dilute the excess of hydrochloric acid, and to digest proteins and albuminous foods very thoroughly, also contain bismuth subnitrate and calcium carbonate, which are antagonistic to the acid, and therefore neutralize the effect of the excessive amount of acid in the stomach, and the continued use of these tablets will change the perverted condition of the secretions to a normal state.

If you are suffering from "hyperchlorhydria," as physicians term it, or in other words, acid dyspepsia, and experience a sour taste in the mouth, with acid eructations or heartburn, begin at once the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, using one or two after each meal, as may be required, and the same quantity at retiring time, for if this trouble is allowed to run on, it may cause serious organic changes in the stomach which are permanent on record where the lining of the stomach has been completely eaten away through perverted action of the secretion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been tried in all forms of indigestion and dyspepsia, with unfailing success, so that no matter which form you may be suffering from, the quickest way to bring about a cure is through the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Secure from your druggist a fifty-cent box, and get cured of acid dyspepsia, or whatever form of indigestion you may be suffering. Also send us your name and address for free sample. Address F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
